

AN ENIGMATIC DECLARATION

1. Like a Buddhist koan ...which is an enigmatic question, such as what is the sound of a dead flower growing? ...that cannot be answered by direct languaging ...or through logic or reason, your eternal declaration [Book 5] commands [P17] a way of eternal life you are willing to energetically and fully pursue singlemindedly as an eternalbeing [Book 3].

2. Of course, your singular declaration, being multitudinous [3H], broadens you expansively and extensively ...as you never realized possible before!

3. However, your declaration of how you would be alive eternally cannot be pursued directly! ...because, in that, you are seeking to be that or become as you have declared! ...while a true declaration is actually a recognition and declaration of the eternalbeing you already are!

4. In fact, it is the awareness and realization of who you are as an eternalbeing that enables you to declare and promise yourself eternally! ...in other words, declaring and promising yourself creates your eternalbeing ...which is enlivened by declaring and promising yourself!

5. Are you willing to dedicate and fully promise yourself eternally?

6. Pursuing a promise directly will defeat you! ...however, since this is a singleminded promise of your eternalbeing ...which encompasses all matters eternally, ...since you are an eternalbeing, it is vital that you live and pursue only the matters and actions you are willing to be and live and live eternally!

7. The choice of every belief, thought, attitude, emotion, word, and action ...and experience is clearly indicated in your declaration! ...which commands and declares [P17] everything in your body and life! ...and everything in your body and life is a multitude [3H] of that declared choice [3G]! ...which clearly reveals that is exactly who you are! ...in other words, by truly declaring and commanding yourself, you get to be and know and express yourself as an eternalbeing in everything you do and experience today! ...however, by not declaring yourself ...or by not commanding yourself, you will not know yourself!

8. Be extremely proud of your eternalself and declaration! ...so proud that you command yourself, for they are to serve you eternally! ...as you truly desire to be served! ...just as a flower and a lava rock collide ...such that the lava cracks and the flower blooms.

9. With your eternal declaration, all of your life leaves cause and effect and turns to passages [IG] of that declared multitude [3H] in which there is no preparation for a passage ...for that is who you already are! ...and all of the universe acknowledges and affirms you! ...and supports and substantiates you!

10. There is no preparation for an aftermath of a passage ...either! ...merely another passage as a multitude as you have declared! ...and in that commanded ...not chosen!

11. Passages are brief portions of your eternalself and life ...formed, sequenced, and commanded by your personal declaration of how you will be eternally alive! Until you make that declaration, you will unawarefully live "this and that" ...struggling to determine and affirm the self and life you would desire to be and live eternally!

12. After your declaration, random moment-by-moment events in your life are organized as passages ...following the pattern of your declaration to create a valuable fulfilling self and life, ...and in organizing random events [IA], you are what you organize by declaration ...by fiat [P17] to proclaim yourself to be!

13. The individual passages, moments, happenings, and events you declare and command reveal you in minute detail as you organize or pattern those details into a unified whole ...to proclaim yourself!

14. You are multitudening and re-multitudening yourself anew moment-by-moment! ...you are never still! ...never complete! ...never satisfied! ...do you think it is possible to be content [Book 23] in all of this? ...content in forming and presenting yourself? ...or to be content in endlessly presenting yourself in multitudinous ways without changing [ID]?

15. Living your declaration transforms you [ID] from a vague unrealized eternalbeing to a privilegedbeing, ...for you are as you declare and live yourself to be! ...and you are in your declaration ...and your declaration is in you! ...you and your declaration are one! ...and in that you are a privilegedbeing!

16. You and your life are made in the image and likeness of your eternal declaration! ...you and your life and declaration are one in communion!

17. Regardless of the form and manner, everything you believe, think, attitude about, emotion, say, or do is a declaration! ...and the commonality of these is your declaration and command [P17] of life, ...what have you declared and commanded yourself to be eternally? ...are you proud of that? ...and proud of yourself?

18. Your eternal declaration is the password and fulfillment of your life! ...it is the encode and decode key of everything in your body and life and understanding! ...it is your true command ...and your commandment!

19. Do not turn to your privilegedbeing or declaration as your source for wisdom and understanding! ...or for health and wellbeing, ...instead, give all of these to your privilegedbeing and declaration ...for in that they are yours!

20. You are not learning, growing, developing! ...you are teaching, showing, realizing, and making available! ...you are a source of supply!

21. In being born ...you appeared! ...and while many teachings proclaim that appearances are of little or no real value, ...you can see that your appearing as you have declared and commanded of yourself is of tremendous value and importance! ...for you and your life only have meaning and purpose in self-declared eternal appearance.

22. With that in mind, following is a very partial list of eternal declarations of eternal appearances we have encountered in the past from others:

Seeking Christ consciousness

Attain cosmic consciousness

Gain enlightenment

Free others

Show others to their eternal declaration

Showing others to their foreverness

Offer or provide freedom

Destroy good and evil

Show gratitude

Offer a greater and grander view of life and individuals

Provide guidance and support

Overcome inertia and laxity

Prepare the way (like John the Baptist)

Relieve suffering

Self-realization

Reveal others' expanded sense of self

Show others how to follow their star

Reach the supreme awakening

Make the very best use of my time and opportunities

Offering unconditional love

Achieve a state of unmoving mind

Reveal the visions of a visionary

23. Of course, there is our declaration of discovering how the universe works ...and showing others, ...what is your eternal declaration? ...how are you willing to be and appear eternally in the universe?

Declare yourself!
